

Project 5

Ariel Armas

With Project 5 I'm choosing to focus on the idea of funny conversations. Something that would resemble stand up comedy and hilarious pod cast. The funny random ideas that pop into our minds at the least expected moments. The reason I think stand up comedy is a great example of this idea is because a lot of comics practice this type of observational comedy. Observational dialog and video that's unique to the individual is what I'm focusing on. Stand up comics and pod casting brings these experiences to a wider audience and that's what I'm going to attempt.
